

ORIGINAL JAPANESE AUCTION SHEET

The diagram shows a top-down view of a road layout. It consists of three vertical lanes. The central lane is labeled 'U2'. On either side of the central lane are two side lanes, each labeled 'A1'. The side lanes are separated from the central lane by dashed lines, indicating a lane change or merging/diverging area. The side lanes are also separated from each other by solid lines. The central lane has a solid line on its left side and a dashed line on its right side. The side lanes have solid lines on their outer edges. The diagram is labeled 'Figure 1' in the bottom right corner.
